

MANHATTANVILLE

Volume X, No. 3

August, 1965

SUMMER SEMESTER 1965

Manhattanville's first 8-week summer semester brought five hundred twenty-three graduate and undergraduate students for courses in French, Spanish, English and American literature, history, philosophy, psychology, theology, biology, music, mathematics, and education. The campus took on a different personality, or more correctly, reflected the variety of personalities and backgrounds of our summer community. The outdoors figured as prominently as do study halls in winter as places for secluded reading. Visitors to campus were impressed by the assiduous activity in the library and the campus pedestrian traffic.

Visiting Faculty

Among the visiting faculty members for the summer semester were: Robert Pollock, professor of philosophy, Fordham; David E. Purpel, of the Harvard Graduate School of Education; Reverend Adrian Van Kaam, C. S. SP., Associate Professor of Psychology, Duquesne University; Maurice Friedman, professor of philosophy, Sarah Lawrence College; John McDermott, associate professor of philosophy, Queens College; G. Huntington Byles, instructor in organ; Richard Casper, professor of piano; Walter Ehret, lecturer in music; Evelyn Hertzmann, instructor in voice; Virginia Kock, Mary Muldowney, Bronson Ragan, and John Reilly, lecturers in music; and Mothers R. Cunningham (English); E. Farley (Philosophy); H. Padberg (Mathematics); E. White (English). In this summer session, Manhattanville joyfully welcomed back Mother F. Weston, former dean, who taught a master's course in history this summer and who will remain at Manhattanville as Professor of History.

Manhattanville's new dormitory group: an artist's impression.
Story on page 4

GIFTS TO THE LIBRARY

Manhattanville is grateful for the generosity of recent donors who have contributed valuable collections to the Brady Memorial Library. The collection of the late Anton Zigmund-Cerbu, assistant professor of religion at Columbia University and a specialist in Buddhism, was given to Manhattanville by his wife, Elisabeth Zigmund-Cerbu, of the faculty. The collection consists of almost 2,000 volumes, chiefly books now largely out of print and unavailable, on the religions of East, Southeast, and South Asia. One large unit is devoted to Hinduism, with texts in Sanskrit, and/or English translation. Another important section deals with the Buddhism of India, China, Tibet, Japan, and Southeast Asia; another is devoted to Thailand with many texts in Siamese. A number of dictionaries in the languages of these areas are included: particularly rare is a 7-volume Sanskrit-German dictionary, Sanskrit-Worterbuch by Bohtlingk, published in St. Petersburg in 1855. Catalogues and bibliographies of Indic and Buddhist literature are other important items.

Professor Zigmund-Cerbu began his collection during his student years at the University of Bucharest. After leaving Rumania, he studied in Paris, where he received the diploma of the Ecole Nationale des Langues Orientales Vivantes in 1951. He lived for a year in the Far East in 1959. During his travels in Europe and Asia, he added to his library with selectivity consistent with his growing distinction as a scholar in his field.

Dr. Zigmund-Cerbu's lectures at Manhattanville enriched our knowl-

(Continued on page 7)

Mamie Lee Ballard, a candidate for the Masters of Arts in Teaching, helps one of her young students complete his silhouette, as part of her training in the summer session of the White Plains school system.

MUSIC EDUCATION RESEARCH GRANT

The U.S. Office of Education has awarded a contract to Manhattanville for a research project in the field of music education. The year-long study financed by a government grant of $34,900, will consist in the accumulation and analysis of information on experimental music programs in individual public schools throughout the country. According to the project's director, Ronald Thomas, former head of music education for the Nanuet, N.Y. public schools, many school programs are recording levels of student accomplishment previously unimagined in the field of music education. New learning procedures, new curriculum organization, and new learning resources are being employed which offer untold potential for strengthening music programs generally in the nation's schools. The project will culminate in a synthesis of the information gained which will be made available to teachers and curriculum planners.

Consultants for the project include Dr. Robert Choate, former dean of Boston University's School of Fine Arts and past president of the Music Educators National Conference; Dr. Otto Luening, composer and a director of the Columbia-Princeton Electronics Center; Dr. Lionel Nowak, originator of the Bennington College Institutes for High School Music Teachers; and from Manhattanville, Mother McCormack, Dean; Mother Morgan, director of the Pius X School of Music; and Bruce Joyce, director of the Master of Arts in Teaching program.

Impetus for the current project came from the 1963 Yale Seminar of Music, sponsored by the Office of Education, at which music educators met to discuss possibilities for developing more effective programs in public school music education.

NEWS OF THE MANHATTANVILLE FAMILY

Tish Coakley O'Neil '49 has received a gold medal from the Diocese of Miami for meritorious service.

Constance Everett Ware '52 has been appointed assistant director of college relations at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

James J. Jordan, Jr., husband of Mary Helen Cronin Jordan '58, has been elected to the board of directors of Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn, Inc.

Ann Noone Cunningham '38 has received the Bronze Pelican Award, the highest award given by the Church to those involved in the Boy Scouts of America program.

Terry Christie '49 has been awarded the Clara Hardin Fellowship, a grant of $6,000. She will use this for her final year of doctoral studies at Teachers College, Columbia University.

Betty Anne Mallay '39 has been appointed director of personnel at Bonwit Teller, Inc.

M.A.T. UNDERWAY

The Master of Arts in Teaching program has gotten off to an auspicious start, with twenty-five women enrolled for programs that will prepare them as specialists in English and the social sciences for elementary and secondary school, and fifteen whose field of concentration will be religion.

In her welcoming talk to the candidates on June 28, Mother O'Byrne said: "The integrity of the child, his personal worth in the eyes of God—this is the motivating principle behind the M.A.T. program."

Dr. John McDermott, in his keynote address, spoke of the "ridiculous dichotomy" that has been allowed to prevail, with too little challenge on the part of educators, between content and method in teaching. A primary objective of the M.A.T. will be the reconciliation of this unreal situation, through integration of all phases of teacher preparation.

The program in Religion seeks to equip lay and religious women with "the scholarly competence needed to share in and contribute to the present renewal of theology and to train effective teachers who will address themselves creatively to the problems of religious education." The fall session for M.A.T. candidates begins on September 20.

Virginia D. Kelly '42 has been made executive assistant to the president of Universal Pictures Co., Inc.

Mary Segers '63 has been made a President's Fellow for the academic year 1965/66 at Columbia University; she will work on her doctoral dissertation.

Martin G. Holleran, husband of Peggy Honold Holleran '60, has become associated with Thomas J. Holleran, Esq., of Newark, New Jersey, in the general practice of law.

Marian Moto Shea '45 has received the 11th annual "Americanism Award" from Rye, N.Y., Post 128 of the American Legion. This award is presented to a resident of Rye "who has made an outstanding civic contribution to the welfare of the city."

Stuart Martin, husband of Magda Levatich Martin '53, has been promoted to Associate Professor at Boston College.

(Continued on page 7)

OUTDOOR COMMENCEMENT

Manhattanville's first outdoor graduation ceremony was held on campus on May 31. In a tree fringed glen behind the Alumnae cottage, one hundred eighty-two graduates received their diplomas from Cardinal Spellman. William J. Sanders, commissioner of education for Connecticut, gave the Commencement address. Blue and white umbrellas on the grassy bank made a colorful frame for the faculty in academic dress and the honored guests.

EAST ASIAN CENTER ESTABLISHED

Manhattanville has received a grant of $15,000 from the government under the National Defense Education Act to assist in the development of an East Asian Language and Area Center. The college will match the government grant with $15,000 from its own resources.

Forty-four language and area centers in 41 colleges and universities are receiving grants in the 1965-66 program; Manhattanville is the only women's college in the group. The purpose of the program, which has been made available for the first time to 30 undergraduate institutions, is to give "short-term assistance to help institutions find appropriate means of integrating non-Western elements into their programs."

Additional Courses

Asian studies were introduced into the curriculum over twenty years ago, and organized formally into a department in 1962. The variety of offerings now available will be supplemented in the fall with the addition of courses in the Japanese language as well as new courses in literature and art. Students preparing to teach at the secondary school level, and candidates for the M.A.T. degree, will be able to concentrate in a branch of Asian studies, thus sharing in a rare opportunity to become specialists in the instruction of children in this significant area.

Cyril F. O'Neil

Death claimed our loved trustee Cyril O'Neil on July 14. In the last months he had kept active in spite of severe illness. His associations with Manhattanville began when he and his late wife enrolled their daughter, now Mother A. O'Neil, as a freshman. Since then we have been fortunate in having his loyal, devoted friendship. Wit, wisdom, a delightful and disarming directness, and a deep thoughtfulness, made him a valued associate on the board of trustees. Much as we miss him, and shall miss him, we rejoice that we were enabled to share in his beautiful Christian life.

The Manhattanville Family has lost a loved member of many years, Mrs. Harry C. Hagerty, wife of Manhattanville's Honorary Trustee and Mother of Mimi Hagerty Brady '48. Mrs. Hagerty died on May 11, after a long illness.

(Continued on page 6)

Our Generous Parents

The American Alumni Council's report, "Annual Giving and Alumni Support 1963-1964," which has just been issued, shows that Manhattanville's parents—both college and alumnae—were fifth in the nation in their financial support of their daughters' college. Of the 620 institutions of Higher Education reporting, only the Universities of Notre Dame, Stanford, and Princeton, along with Sweet Briar College, showed greater support. The alumni and student groups of these four schools are from two to ten times larger than Manhattanville.

Colleges Report

The following colleges and universities received support in excess of $50,000 from college and alumni parents:

Notre Dame	$216,416.
Sweet Briar	108,560.
Stanford	90,729.
Princeton	80,001.
MANHATTANVILLE	76,871.
Harvard	70,425.
Sarah Lawrence	65,619.
Middlebury	65,468.
St. Mary-of-the-Woods	65,000.
Syracuse	64,451.
Bennington	63,705.
Yale	59,045.
Bryn Mawr	58,307.
Wheaton (Mass.)	54,322.
Dartmouth	50,248.
Trinity (Conn.)	50,230.

Alumnae Reunion was a very special occasion this year, since it marked the 50th anniversary of the Class of 1915, one of whose illustrious members is Mother O'Byrne. The Executive Board of the Alumnae Association planned, in secret, a few ceremonial observances. At the Reunion dinner, wearing Confederate hats and singing "Dixie," they carried into the Prom Room a 50th anniversary cake, and fifty silver dollars in the smallest of a series of colorful boxes, discovered here by Mother O'Byrne; Madeleine Webb Thomas holds out her Confederate hat to catch the shower of silver as Regina Sherwood Kearns, president, and Colette Byrnes, secretary, look on.

NEW DORMITORY GROUP

Work is advancing rapidly on a new dormitory group south of Spellman Hall. Eggers and Higgins, the architectural firm who designed all of the major buildings on the Purchase campus, planned the two three-unit buildings which will house some 400 graduate and undergraduate students. The new dormitories will be architecturally compatible with the other buildings, although different in design; their plan reflects the trend towards more private, decentralized living facilities.

The George A. Fuller Company are constructing the 3-story, stone-and-brick buildings, which have been financed by the New York State Dormitory Authority, at a cost of nearly $4 million.

The six units comprising the entire group will be placed about an open quadrangle, with glass-enclosed lounges forming the connecting links on each floor of the two main buildings. One building in each group has an additional ground floor and basement, with a large, informal lounge adjacent to the lobby and reception desk. On each of the three "living" floors in the six units, four suites are contained, each of which accommodates six students. A typical suite contains a central study area with a large bay window, flanked by two single and two double bedrooms. Baths are located both within the suites and on the corridors opposite each suite.

A major advantage of the group design is that each unit or pavilion can function independently or in relation to the other units in each building. Variation in occupancy is possible, for graduate, undergraduate, or lay visitor use, seasonally or year-round.

The first two units are expected to be ready for occupancy in January; the others will be finished for the summer session of 1966.

Faculty News

Mother Sullivan and Mother Whalen returned from a two-month tour of the Holy Land, Egypt, Lebanon, and Syria. Their travels were sponsored by Cardinal Spellman for the purpose of Biblical research and conferences with scholars located in Near Eastern study centers. They are now working on a lecture-and-slide presentation, so as to extend to others the rich experiences and insights they gained on this rare pilgrimage. Mother Sullivan returned to the U.S. just in time to receive the St. John Baptist de La Salle medal at Commencement exercises of Manhattan College; the award honors outstanding persons in Christian education.

Alumnae were impressed by the thoughtful and well-researched presentation by students in the American Studies program during Alumnae Reunion weekend. Roberta Ryter '67 uses one of several graphs she made to illustrate a point on housing conditions in Harlem. Mary Alice Murphy '65 (center), subsequently winner of the Mother Dammann graduate fellowship, reported on health conditions, and Martha Moraghan '66 devoted her part of the panel to the employment picture.

Alumnae Leaders

Congratulations to new members of the Board of Directors of the Alumnae Association, and to their elected officers. At the May Reunion, Regina Sherwood Kearns '30 was elected to a second term as president; Madeleine Webb Thomas '41 was elected vice president; Maureen Dempsey Walsh '57, treasurer; and Colette Byrnes '37, secretary.

NEW BOARD MEMBERS

Adele Brady Flannery '42, Nanette Hogan Hahn '27, Julie Kammerer '52, Mary Cronin Kelley '48; Patricia Broderick O'Brien '43, Joyce Carroll O'Neil '45; Janet McCarty Tuohy '41; and Cordelia Bair Wheeler '58 have been elected to the Board. Those who are continuing their terms on the Board are: Barbara Finlay Donahue '51, Barbara Hogan Fisher '42, Betty O'Brien Forker '41, Joan Finley Glynn '42, Mary Williams Kyte '28, Mary McGoldrick McGee '36, Ellen Coakley O'Neil '49, Barbara Murphy Rogers '45, Nancy Shea '55.

CONGRATULATIONS . . . To Our First Honors Graduates

The following graduates of the Class of '65 received their degrees with special acclamation; they were the first graduates to have successfully completed the Honors Program in their respective disciplines:

Jane Correa - Economics
Judith Doran - Psychology
Jean Feraca - English
Susan Gross - Government
Ruth Kennedy - English
Giulia La Gioia - English
Oksanna Makarewycz - Physics
Mary McGann - Music
Carol Nolan - French
Christine Schultz Ludt - English
Miriam Smith - English
Nancy Spelshouse - Psychology

Faculty News

Mother Hargrove, professor of religion, is working on a book, Spiritual Semites, a group of studies of the Judaeo-Christian dialogue, to be published in the fall by Bruce. She participated in the Theology Institute at St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, Maryland, in June.

Mother Fiske, professor of classics, has translated Gregory Palamas by Reverend John Meyendorff, and has edited a memorial volume on Werner Jaeger. Articles have appeared in Speculum, The Journal of Religious Education, and Literature East and West. She participated in meetings of the American Philological Association, the American Oriental Society, and the Harvard Byzantium Symposium at Dumbarton Oaks.

David Dilworth, assistant professor of philosophy, has been awarded an NDEA post-doctoral fellowship in Chinese language by Columbia University for 1965-66.

John Ross and Clare Romano (Mrs. Ross), both members of the art department, have been spending the summer with the U.S.I.A. Exhibition, "Graphic Arts U.S.A.," in Yugoslavia. At the 46th Annual Print Exhibition, held in February, Mr. Ross was awarded the Purchase Award by the Society of American Graphic Artists. He is currently working on a book Sprints and Distances, poems on sports illustrations. His prints executed in Romania during the 1964 U.S.I.A. Exhibition have appeared in a one-man show. Miss Romano's recent exhibitions include showings at the New Jersey Pavilion, World's Fair; Pratt Institute; American Prints, Caracas, Venezuela; National Academy; American Color Print Society; and the Society of American Graphic Artists. She was given the Audubon Artist's Medal for her woodcut "Dark Sea, Dark Sky," at the Audubon Artists Annual Exhibit.

Samuel Draper, assistant professor of English, spent his fifth summer as director of the Writer's Workshop, and professor of literature, at The Cum-mington School of the Arts, Cummington, Mass. He contributed to the spring issue of Drama Critique, "Michel de Ghelderode: More Life Than Death." In August, he gave a Ghelderode seminar sponsored by The National Council of Churches, at the National Conference of Religious Drama at Lake Forest College, Illinois.

(Continued on page 6)

MUSIC WORKSHOPS:

G. Wallace Woodworth, choral conductor and authority on Renaissance and Baroque choral music, is shown with Mother Morgan during the workshop he conducted in July. Other music specialists who conducted workshops were Vincent Persichetti, composer, and Julius Herford, Bach authority.

Ready for Appalachia; parcels of food, clothing, medical supplies, practical tools, toys and books, are made ready for the trucks by Mary McGann '65, Sheila Watson '67, and Eddie Waller '68. The latter two girls, with four others, spent Easter week in Kentucky with about 125 other Catholic college students on a work project sponsored by NFCCS. The girls were proudest of a big Easter egg filled with candy for poor children, a gift from Reverend Mother Brennan and the community.

Centenary of St. Madeleine-Sophie

The Centenary of the Feast of St. Madeleine Sophie was observed in a variety of ways at Manhattanville in May. The entire student body assisted at an evening Mass followed by a gala candlelight dinner with music supplied by a three-piece orchestra. Students and faculty then heard an excellent lecture by Reverend Martin d'Arcy, S.J., on Christian Humanism. Father d'Arcy is shown here with Mother O'Byrne, and Mr. Langley, assistant professor of philosophy, who introduced the speaker.

On the Sunday preceding May 25, Sisters of the Archdiocese and from neighboring areas were invited to an afternoon of talks by Mother Williams and Mother McCormack on the life and influence of St. Madeleine Sophie, and on the application of her educational philosophy to today's college.

Manhattanville was notably represented at the World Reunion of Alumnae of the Sacred Heart in Brussels (May 10-14) by Marta F. Morrell '41, executive director of the Alumnae Association. The world meeting, dedicated to St. Madeleine Sophie, took for its theme the modern Christian woman and her role in the Church. Regina Clark McGranery '28 was one of the key speakers.

Faculty News (Continued)

Clarence Hohl, associate professor of history, is currently working on The Catholic Reformation: Reform or Reaction for D.C. Heath and Co., part of the Problems in European Civilization series; The Catholic Reformation for Charles Scribners and Sons; Pope Paul III for the Newman Press. A revised edition of History of Western Civilization has been published. "Recent Ecumenical Literature (1962-1964)" appeared in Catholic Library World, in February. He has attended meetings of the European Historian of New York at Cornell, and the American Historical Medieval Academy at Brown University.

Mother O'Connor, librarian, participated in the workshop of Catholic Library Association in Philadelphia recently, and attended the Drexel Institute Conference on College Libraries in Philadelphia.

Mother Dowd and Mother Schumann took part in the Harlem Tutoring

Project sponsored by the Archdiocese this summer. Mother Schumann has received certification from the American Montessori Society.

William Segreda, assistant professor of Spanish, has co-authored the textbook A-LM Spanish, Level IV, for Harcourt, Brace and World. He is currently working on a Spanish reader textbook to be completed in September.

John Klein, lecturer in economics, attended meetings of the American Economic Association, Economics Society, and the American Finance Society last spring.

Mother Williams, professor of English, is working on a translation of the works of the Pearl-Poet. This April, Mother attended the meeting of the Medieval Academy of America at Brown University.

(Continued on page 7)

Deaths (Continued)

The sudden loss of our loyal and generous faculty secretary, Elaine Haessler, has left all at Manhattanville deeply saddened. Faculty members and students who are just now learning of her death, which occurred on July 3, will want to know that they may express their sympathy to her family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Haessler, at 30 Miller Lane, East Hampton, New York. Sympathy is also extended to Mrs. Marion Cieslicki, of the library staff, on the death of her husband.

All at Manhattanville extend sympathy to the families of the following alumnae who have died recently: Helen Maher, Acad; Katherine McManus Riordan, Acad; Ethel Murray Gaynor, Acad; Frances Travers Tobin '27,

(Continued on page 7)

Professor Howard Boorman of Columbia University chats with Mother M. Chi after his May lecture on "The Leadership of Communist China." Enthusiastic approval of Dr. Max Loehr's lecture on Chinese Art is shown by Mother Carr and Professor Wm. Theodore de Bary. Dr. Loehr is a professor at Harvard.

News of the Manhattanville Family

Otto E. Dohrenwend, trustee and father of Renata Dohrenwend Gallagher '54, has received the Americanism Award given by the Scarsdale unit of the American Legion, for his outstanding devotion to the concepts of citizenship and patriotism.

Maureen Fisher Vachris '62 has been awarded a National Science Foundation

Teachers Institute grant for work at Hopkins Marine Research Station, Stanford University, California.

Anna Mae Walsh '60, Mother Dammann Scholar, has received her Ph.D. from Fordham University; she is assistant professor of physics at Merrimack College, North Andover, Massachusetts.

Faculty News (Continued)

Elizabeth Steltenpohl, director of placement, has completed her doctoral degree (Ed. D.) at Teachers College, Columbia University.

Ruth Alscher, professor of biology, has been elected a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Sciences, and has just completed a two year presidency of the Business and Professional Women's Club of New Rochelle. She is a member of the mayor's advisory board on youth for the City of New Rochelle, and of Operation Paycheck, an organization of interested New Rochelle citizens active in creating jobs for poor children.

Julio Mira, professor of mathematics, has completed the textbook Arithmetic Clear and Simple (Barnes and Noble).

Gifts (Continued)

edge and appreciation of Asian thought; he made a particularly valuable contribution to the notable Conference on Southeast Asia in February, 1963. His death at the age of 40 in 1964 was a deeply felt loss for the Manhattanville family who respected his scholarship and cherished his friendship.

Elisabeth C. Zigmund-Cerbu

It was after the article above had been set in type for Manhattanville that word came of the sudden death of Mrs. Zigmund-Cerbu while traveling with friends in Connecticut on August 14. All at Manhattanville are deeply grieved at the loss of this much loved colleague and friend. Mrs. Zigmund-Cerbu joined the faculty in 1960 as assistant professor of Italian. Her scholarly work and her devoted interest in her students are well known. She was to have visited Brussels in late August to work with her publisher on her forthcoming edition of the collected works of Bar-Hebraeus, which will be a volume in the Patrologia Orientalia.

Gifts to the Library

Another important gift to the library is the collection of the late Bruno Benziger, long a friend and devoted trustee and benefactor of Manhattanville. The gifts were presented by the kind arrangement of his widow, the late Marie Schickel Benziger. The collection is particularly valuable for its rich offerings in Catholic Americana and for its volumes devoted to early United States history. Histories of dioceses, documents on the early missions, even a primitive catechism translated into one of the Indian languages, are among the noteworthy items.

Manhattanville is grateful, too, for the gift of a fine collection of operatic scores from Mrs. Austin Kilburn, which form a rich addition to the library's collection. The material will be of great value to music students and their teachers.

Deaths (Continued)

mother of Mother F.T. Tobin, R.S.C.J. '56; Sister Mary Eustace, O.P. (Mary E. Kenzel '37); Angela Williams Wyss '38; Kathleen Andrews Dunphy '43; M. Lourdes Talley '47; Priscilla N. Kearns '50; Joan Koppel Fougner '45; Carmen Guijarro '56; Virginia M. Hefernan '29; and to the families of the following alumna husbands and parents of alumnae and college students: John L. Gormley, husband of Dorothy Farrell Gormley, Acad; Arthur J. Morris, husband of Margaret Ryan Morris, Acad., and father of Eileen '48; Robert H. Fraser, husband of Kathleen Kileen Fraser '42; Frederick Poppe, husband of Anne Cullen Poppe '42; Arthur P. Famiglietti, husband of Maria Golini Famiglietti '26, and father of Maria '53, and Carolyn '65. The Honorable Dennis Sullivan, father of Anne '62; Mrs. James H. Murphy, mother of Carol Murphy van R. Springer '58; Mrs. Isabel M. Dorney, mother of Isabel McCafferty Boettger '37; Patrick A. Colligan, father of Eileen Colligan Morrissey '41, and Kathleen Colligan

A point in the script of "Women at the Tomb" is intently considered by translator and director of the Ghelderode play, Samuel Draper, and student actresses Kathy O'Connor '65 and Chris Camarano '68, during rehearsals for the Holy Week production.

Molloy '45; Leo J. Molloy, father of Mary Lou Molloy Lucas '49; Louis La Course Lang, father of Esther Lang Saunders '31; Mrs. Warren C. Mercier, mother of Jessie Mercier Amy '30, and Rita Mercier de Castro '34; Mrs. Patrick H. McCarthy, mother of Mother V. McCarthy, R.S.C.J. '29, Kathleen McCarthy Halligan '33, Marion McCarthy Mullaney '38, and the late Eileen McCarthy Crilly '29; Dr. Arthur C. Mulligan, father of Carol Mulligan Zingale '45; L. Carey Healy, father of Margaret '67; Mrs. Samuel Sattenstein, mother of Catherine '64; Seymour J. Egan, father of Alice Egan Kruse '38; Mr. and Mrs. David Bremner, parents of Alice Bremner Drake '29; Mrs. Robert L. Hoguet, mother of Louise Hoguet McKeon '38, and Eleanor Hoguet de Giv'e '40; Mrs. Alois Zuber, mother of Hildegard '51; Coleman M. Hopkins, father of Jean Hopkins Sutton '54; Mrs. Clifford F. Raye, mother of Kathryn '67; Mrs. Frank E. Sessions, mother of Mother M. Sessions, R.S.C.J. '32; Robert K. McKechnie, father of Pamela '66 and Carol Ann '67; William M. Sheehan, father of Mother R. Sheehan '63; The Honorable James A. Shanley, father of Mary Louise '59; Mrs. Francis A. McGrath, mother of Marianne '68; Cornelius F. Fay, father of Jean Fay Lamothe '54; R. Vincent Torras, father of Lola Torras Braisted '59; John A. Grogan, father of Mary Ann '66; Mrs. Carl J. Schumann, mother of Catherine Schumann Covey '30, Mother V.M. Schumann, R.S.C.J. '37, Barbara Schumann Fogarty '39, and Mother M. Schumann of the faculty; Joseph A.

(Continued on last page)

News (Continued)

Patricia Sullivan Reisert '59 has received her Ph.D. in Botany from Brown University.

Francis I. McCanna, father of Geraldine McCanna Coakley '45, and professor emeritus of Boston University School of Law, is now chairman of the Racing and Athletics Hearing Board for Rhode Island. Professor McCanna, a Knight of Malta, is former chairman of the Board of Trustees of Rhode Island Colleges.

Dr. Basil Harris, Jr., husband of Marie Murray Harris '40, has been appointed medical director of the Life Extension Institute, the nation's oldest and largest health examination agency.

Therese Raick '53 has been named appraisal officer of the U.N.-FAO World Food Program.

Marie Santone '58 is preparing for her second trip to Argentina as a full time member of Catholics for Latin America. In the five countries where the 66 unpaid laymen and women work—Chile, Peru, Argentina, Brazil and Ecuador—their major goal is to help the poor to help themselves.

Evelyn M. Farrell '66 has received the book prize given by Teachers College, Columbia University, to the student in her college class who has shown outstanding interest in educational issues.

Deaths (Continued)

Kelly, father of Anne Kelly Hemphill '43; Thomas F. McCann, father of Rita '36; Shepard Spink, father of Barbara Spink Marden '61; Mrs. William H. Barnes, mother of Anne Barnes Foxen '46; Mrs. John E. McTernan, mother of Annette McTernan Sundstrom '39; Thomas J. Brogan, father of Marjorie Brogan Wolff '42; Dennis J. Mahon, father of the late Jane Mahon Hulsebosch '47; Mrs. Thomas Scholz, mother of Magdalena Scholz Gross '33; James Fitzgerald, father of Mary '52, and Anne Fitzgerald Neumann '53; Mrs. Philip J. Ryan, mother of Nora '68; Mrs. Fred J. Witchie, mother of Nancy Witchie Arledge '57; E. James Kock, father of Virginia '56; Mrs. William G. Duggan, mother of Mary Ellen Duggan Murphy '29; Theobald Dengler, father of Hilda Dengler McGlew '48; and Mrs. John F. McFarland, mother of Mary '68.

PURCHASE: A Summer Festival

Stephen Simon conducts Brahms; Aaron Rosand is soloist.

The "Summer of Music" festival, a series of five orchestral concerts given outdoors on the campus this summer, have been successful beyond all expectations. Co-sponsored by the Orchestral Society of Westchester and Manhattanville, the five evenings of music drew crowds of 700-1000 for each performance. Stephen Simon, gifted young conductor whose Philharmonic debut last season called forth critical acclaim, led the 80-piece orchestra in evenings of Mozart, Beethoven, Schumann, Brahms, and Russian music (Tchaikovsky and Rachmaninoff). The setting was the west side of the chapel, near the Castle, where the soft multi-colored hues of the stained-glass windows, lighted from within, formed a glowing backdrop for the stage. Soloists in the series included soprano Helen Boatwright, violinists Aaron Rosand and Gabriel Banat, and pianists Joel Rosen and Jerome Lowenthal.

Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart
Purchase, New York 10577

NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION

U. S. Postage

PAID

Purchase, New York

Permit 8